ENECON Tennessee, along with a local mechanical contractor, Cumberland Machine, recently co-hosted a customer event for 100+ current and prospective customers at the Temple Hills country club in Franklin, TN.

Andy Janczak, ENECON Corporation President, was in attendance to lend a hand to Ted Griffith and the entire ENECON Tennessee team.

Garry McGehee, President of ENECON Hampton Roads, was also there to support Ted as well as share some application success stories.

Following the presentation and buffet lunch, the group was then divided up into foursomes for the golf tournament. Prizes were given out for 1st & 2nd place in two flights, closest to the pin as well as in a putting contest. A great day was had by all.

This event was such a great success, the 2nd ENECON Tennessee / Cumberland Machine golf outing has already been scheduled for 2013.
