

Chemical Protection Projects Continue to Expand Sales of CHEMCLAD Systems

Bob Barr, President of ENECON North East, reports that their clients are expressing more and more concern regarding chemical protection and containment applications.

ENECON's CHEMCLAD systems have been successfully used to protect a wide variety of critical areas from some of the most aggressive chemicals used throughout industry today.

Bob reports that acid as well as caustic containment areas are routinely protected with CHEMCLAD. Tanks, pumps, pump pedestals, piping, loading docks, etc. have also been successfully repaired and protected with ENECON's high performance polymer composites.
