

ENECON Tennessee Experiences Tremendous Growth in 2010

Ted Griffith, President of ENECON Tennessee, has only been an ENECON Distributor for about 3 years. In those 3 years, however, he has developed a number of key clients throughout TN and he has also been building a dynamic sales and technical support team which includes Curtis Ladd, Projects Manager, and Teresa Swystun, Regional Sales Director for North-eastern TN.

Andy Janczak recently visited with Ted and his team. One of the highlights of that visit was a plant tour of a very large waste water treatment plant – one of Ted's key clients where he will complete about $200,000 in ENECON projects in 2010. These pictures highlight just a few of Ted's many applications at this important facility.

Ted projects continued double digit growth in 2011 and expects to make more key additions to his sales and technical service team.

ENESEAL CR is being used extensively throughout the facility.
